County Sunday Schools in Convention.

The Bourbon County Inter-Denominational Sunday School Association held a convention Tuesday morning and afternoon in the Baptist church. The meeting was presided over by Mr. H. A. Power, county president. After the devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Carey E. Morgan, and the report of the secretary, Mr. Houston Rion, Rev. O. B. Crockett made an address in Personality Teaching, which was very practical and thoughtful.

The story of the International convention held at San Francisco in July, was told in a very entertaining manner by Mr. W. J. Vaughn, of Louisa, Ky., field worker for the Kentucky Sunday School Association. His account of the proceedings of the convention was very instructive, and he related many interesting incidents of his trip. He also stated that there are more Sunday schools in the mountain counties of Kentucky in proportion to the population than in any of the counties in Central Kentucky, and that more boys and girls of school age attend the Sunday schools there than elsewhere in the State.

After a solo by Mr. Floyd, the meeting adjourned until 2 p. m., when the devotional services were conducted by Rev. J. T. Sharrard.

Mr. Vaughan again addressed the meeting upon "The Present Day Demands Upon the Church and Sunday Schools," and made a strong plea for the spirit of conquest and consecration in the work. Rev. E. M. Lightfoot followed with an address upon "Parental Responsibility" and urged the necessity of co-partnership between parent and child.

After a discussion of various methods of the work, conducted by Mr. Vaughan, the committees on resolutions and nominations reported. Mr. W. O. Hinton, chairman of the latter committee, submitted the names of the following to act as officers for the ensuing year:

Professor George W. Chapman, president; J. B. Barnett, vice president, and Houston Rion, secretary and treasurer, who were duly elected.

The following delegates were appointed to the State Convention to be held in Louisville October 19-22:

Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Lightfoot, Rev. C. E. Morgan, Dr. F. L. Lapsley, Mr. James Smith, Mr. Houston Rion, Mr. H. A. Power, Mrs. B. M. Shive, Mrs. Walter Clark, Mrs. William Myall, Mr. D. Y. Farley.

The time and place for holding the next convention will be determined later.

The following resolutions were adopted:

We, the Bourbon County Sunday School Union in session assembled in the Baptist church at Paris, Kentucky, believe that

Whereas, the Sunday schools of our county could be brought into closer union with each other, and the varied methods of work as used by each denominational school, by comparison with one another in such conferences would be of untold value, and

Whereas, but few of our county schools are represented in this annual gathering, therefore be it resolved

That we urge upon the officers of this organization to arrange a programme at least one month prior to the time of annual meeting, same to be published in all county papers together with time and place of meeting, and be it further resolved

That all our county schools be urged to make out and forward report of their work to the secretary of the union, that we command the gathering of all statistics as to non-attending Sunday school pupils, that the Home Department, Cradle Roll, and Graded System, so far as the latter is practicable in view of local conditions be adopted by the various schools, and be it further resolved

That we commend our brother, W. J. Vaughan, as an interesting and efficient Sunday school worker, that we urge a heartier co-operation with our State Association, and that our schools send a large representation to the State Convention at Louisville, Kentucky, on October 19-22, 1911.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. WM. MYALL,
MRS. B. M. SHIVE,
REV. E. M. LIGHTFOOT,
Committee.

Blacksmith Fouly Murdered.

Wm. E. Slade, veteran blacksmith and gunsmith, was found murdered at his home in Cynthiana Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Slade was found lying across his bed, clad only in his underwear. He was cold and stiff in death. Blood smeared his features and the bedding. A lamp on a table was burning.

He had been struck in the head four or five times with some blunt instrument, and had been shot in the abdomen. An overturned chair was the only evidence of struggle.

Slade's shot gun with both barrels loaded stood by the bed. His revolver, with every chamber loaded, was under his pillow. It is probable he was murdered while he slept.

Robbery is the only cause assigned.

One dollar was found in his trousers pocket.

His watch was lying on the floor still running. But his pocketbook in which he usually carried considerable money was missing.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—It cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—It enables Nature to repair the ravages of the disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema cure.

Drop into our store today, just to talk over your case with us.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

The County Unit Plank is Adopted.

The Democrats of Kentucky Tuesday night adopted a platform on which their candidates, previously named in a primary, will go before the people of the State and ask for their suffrage.

The fight on the county unit plank as was forecast, took place and one was inserted declaring that temperance should not be made a partisan issue between political parties, but calling for an extension of the present local option law as applied to the sale of liquors so that the citizens of each county may determine whether liquors shall be sold there.

The plank favored by Mr. McCreary, the candidate for Governor, and former Gov. Beckham. A minority report offered by three of the 18 members of the committee—Webster Helm, of Campbell county; James M. O'Brien, of Bourbon, and Henry Watterson, of Jefferson, was defeated after a roll call contested every inch of the way, the vote as announced by the secretary being 66 to 514 against substituting the minority report for the majority plank.

The climax to the convention was as dramatic as any ever witnessed in Kentucky. All afternoon the delegates favoring the "extension of the county unit"—the phrase used by Mr. Beckham and other supporters—to designate their position wrangled at the Masonic Theater.

Things became heated from the moment the Committee on Credentials presented its report, at the afternoon session, and the interest of the delegates in the struggle waxed steadily until the dramatic moment came at the night session when the editor and former Governor appeared on the same platform. The one to uphold the principles for which he had fought since entering journalism, the other to ask the delegates to support a distinct step toward making Kentucky "dry."

The rejected plank as submitted as a substitute for Section 13 of the majority report is as follows:

"The Democratic party of Kentucky is, and has always been, a party of moderation and temperance. Every existing statute in restriction of the sale and use of intoxicants was enacted by a Democratic Legislature and approved by a Democratic Governor. Unalterably opposed to the principle of paternalism, and pledging the party to the rigorous enforcement of the laws, the Democrats of Kentucky renew their allegiance to the time-honored principle of self-government and home-rule embodied by the local option clause of the State constitution and denounce the double-dealing and hypocrisy of the Republican efforts to drag into party politics a social, moral and religious question having no proper place therein.

Congress May Adjourn Aug. 22. Adjournment of the present session of Congress August 22, at 4 p. m., was provided for in a concurrent resolution offered Tuesday by Senator Perouse, Chairman of the Finance Committee. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Appropriations after Senators Cummins and Bristow had declared that they would oppose vigorously the adjournment of Congress until other tariff schedules, particularly steel and sugar, had been taken up and disposed of.

ONE WEAK SPOT.

Most Paris People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's the Back.

Everyone has a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night. Tells you the kidneys need help. For backache is really kidneyache. A kidney cure is what you need. Dean's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys. Cure backache and urinary ills. Good proof in the following statement:

C. M. Hamilton, farmer, W. Main street, Carlisle, Ky., says: "About eight years ago I was afflicted with typhoid fever which left my kidneys very weak and from that time on I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint. My back became weak and lame and if I stooped, sharp twinges, like the stab of a knife, darted through my body. The kidney secretions were also out of order being at times too frequent in passage, then again just the reverse. I recently got a box of Dean's Kidney Pills and they lived up to all the claims made for them, entirely relieving me."

Attacked by Hog.

While trying to drive a hog out of his cornfield near Berry Monday, Squire J. S. Bassett was attacked by the enraged animal which turned upon him, knocking him down and inflicting several very severe wounds, the most alarming being one on his right hand, which was nearly torn off. Mr. Bassett succeeded in getting away from the hog and going to the house secured a shotgun and returning killed the hog. Mr. Bassett was formerly a merchant of Boyd, Harrison county, and at present is Justice of the Peace of the Berry magisterial district.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.

A Bleak and Barren Coast.
Bleak and barren is the west coast of South America, where it is always cloudy, yet never rains, where it is chilly even up under the equator, where never a tree nor a blade of grass is to be seen—only the parched and hungry foothills of the Andes, swept with windrows of sand, and behind them fleeting glimpses of the towering peaks of the main mountain chain. Probably nowhere else in the world is there a seacoast of equal extent so desolate and uninviting.

Harbors there are few or none. Coquimbo, 200 miles north of Valparaiso, and Callao are safe and of commercial value. But, although there are few harbors, there are many ports. The Pacific ocean, true on this coast, at least, to its name, makes it possible for a vessel to anchor almost anywhere to take and leave cargo by means of lighters. Loading and unloading the lighters at the shore are made possible by artificial breakwaters or a fortunate conformation of the land which affords shelter for small craft.—New York Post.

When You Break Cut Glass.
An accident to cut glass invariably plunges the owner of it into clouds of gloom, but often these clouds have silver linings. Before throwing the pieces away examine each piece separately and see if it could be cut down into anything smaller. Shops which deal in cut glass usually have a cutter on the premises. A case is told of a bride who upon entering the dining room arrived in time to see, but not prevent, her maid from pulling instead of pushing the extension table, and as it separated in the middle several pieces of valuable cut glass which had been placed there during the cleaning time fell through with a crash to the floor. It seemed a hopeless accident, but a rose bowl was cut down from a decanter, following the pattern near the neck, which had broken off; a small violet holder was cut down from a tall vase, a tiny sugar bowl from a vinegar cruet, and a small bonbon dish was saved from a larger cut glass bowl.—Woman's Home Companion.

A Clever Crow.
As to a crow's ability to talk, said a naturalist, some will and others will never learn. The first of the four birds I have had recently was a wonderful talker. Unlike the parrot, his conversation seemed intelligent rather than simply imitative. For instance, if I said to him, "Hello, Jack?" he would answer, "Hello!" and not put on the "Jack," as so many parrots do when one says, "Hello, Polly!"

But he could imitate me also. He found that when any one called and said, "Hello, Wood!" my reply was a low "Hello!" He tried in every way to imitate that low tone of mine and finally succeeded. He would go over to his water trough and with his head in the air would cry, "Hello, Wood!" Then down would go his head in the trough, and out would come the "Hello!" just like mine.—Washington Star.

Temperature of Sea Water.
The temperature of ocean water varies at the surface from 28 degrees F. at the poles to over 80 degrees F. in the tropics. The cold water toward the poles has an annual variation of less than 10 degrees F. at any one spot, and the warm water of the tropics also has an annual variation of less than 10 degrees F. in a band that nearly encircles the earth. This is the region of the coral reefs and atolls. Between these regions of small annual variation there are two bands surrounding the earth where the annual variation is greater and may exceed in certain regions 40 degrees F. at any one spot.—Marine Journal.

The Woman in the Case.
A mother-in-law had stayed so often with her daughter as to cause a quarrel with the husband. One day she found her daughter weeping in the drawing room.

"What's the matter? Gracious me, don't say that George has left you!" she exclaimed.

"He has," replied the young wife tearfully.

"Then there's woman in the case?" her mother asked, her eyes lighting up expectantly.

"Yes."

"Who is it?"

"You!"

A Model Horse.

Hi Billings went to a horse sale one day and bought a horse for $18. When he got the horse home he offered it a bucket of water, but it wouldn't drink. After that he gave it a feed of corn, but it wouldn't touch that either. "By gosh," he said, "you're the very horse for me if you'll only work!"

Probably There Now.
Bobby-Pa, did you ever see an arm of the sea?

Father—Yes.

"Where was it?"

"It was hugging the shore the last I saw of it."—Smart Set.

Ourselves.
No one was ever yet made utterly miserable excepting by himself. We are, if not the masters, at any rate almost the creators of ourselves.—Epicurus.

The Yankee Twist.
"You can always tell an Englishman," said the Briton proudly. "Of course you can," replied the Yankee, "but it doesn't do any good."

Fell Into Luck.
Artist—What a beautiful place this is! I suppose you came here for the view? Old Lady—No; I wasn't consulted. I was born here.

A Few Thoughts on Money.
Money, otherwise known as tin, dough, cash, gelt, rocks, etc.

The cupules of national circulation which indicate the strength of our constitution.

It is often called a curse. Some swear by it, others swear for it, and still others swear at it.

It often causes a species of mental derangement or delirium called money mania. Many are willing to be thus inoculated.

It is the feature of social distinction. It is the measure of intelligence—those who have it are wise, those who have it not are foolish. Possession of it entitles one to the use of a money mania.

Though a medium of exchange, it has no connection with souls or astral bodies.

It is the religion of today, often called moneytheism. Preachers pray for it; laymen lay for it.

It is the be all and the end all. Children cry for it, women sigh for it, men die for it, and all lie for it.—Smart Set.

Wrecked by a Knife Blade.

A ship was once wrecked on the Irish coast. The captain was a careful one. Nor had the weather been so severe a kind as to explain the wide distance which the vessel had swerved from her proper course. The ship went down, but so much interest attached to the disaster that a diving bell was sunk. Among other portions of the vessel that were examined was the compass that was swung on the deck, and inside the compass box was detected a bit of steel, which appeared to be the small point of a pocket-knife blade. It was learned that the day before the wreck a sailor who had been set cleaning the compass had used his pocket knife in the process and had unmercifully broken off the point and left it remaining in the box. That bit of knife blade exerted its influence on the compass and to a degree that deflected the needle from its proper bent and vitiated it as an index of the ship's direction. That bit of knife blade wrecked the vessel.

Scotch Students.

Many a man who never had any "schooling" gets an education, and often a surprisingly good one.

A traveler in Scotland once met a farmer whose ground rent was about $20 a year and who wrote poetry in Gaelic that was of a high order.

This same traveler met a youth in Scotland who rode from home on horseback to the seaport and then across Scotland to Aberdeen, where he sold his horse to enter the university.

It is related of another Scotchman that he was overheard repeating a line of Tennyson, whereupon some one asked him what poet he liked best.

"Homer," he replied.

"Whose translation do you read?"

"I rarely read a translation," he said, wiping the fish scales from his apron. "I like best to read Homer in the original Greek."—Minneapolis Tribune.

All About a Cruiser.

"What sort of a boat is this?" inquired the inquisitive man at the docks.

"A cruiser," replied a smart lad.

"And where is she going?"

"A cruise, sir."

"What makes it go?"

"It's screw, sir."

"Who are on board?"

"It's crew, sir."

"It looks pretty smart."

"We have to keep it clean, or rubbish and dust would accrue, sir."

"Oh, you're too smart! Where do you come from?"

"From Crewe, sir."—London Tit-Bits.

Manhattan Scallop.

A delicious breakfast or luncheon dish is Manhattan scallop. Shred sufficient cold cooked fish to measure a good half pint. It must be free from skin and bone. Add to it one cupful of fine stale breadcrumbs, a good seasoning of salt and pepper, two well beaten eggs mixed with a half cupful of steamed tomatoes. Turn all into a buttered dish, sprinkle the top with buttered breadcrumbs, dot with bits of butter and brown in a hot oven.—Suburbanite.

Sizes of the Planets.

An ingenious way of comparing the sizes of planets with the sun is suggested by a French scientific writer. Let the earth, he says, be represented by a twenty franc piece; then Venus is 15 francs; Mars, 2; Mercury, 7; Uranus, 250; Neptune, 320; Saturn, 1,840; Jupiter, 6,800, and the sun 67,800,000.

A Time For Blindness.

There is sometimes a greater charity in seeming not to see our neighbor's trouble than in trying to relieve it. "Let me alone!" is the prayer of many a tortured heart when the curious, the officious and the tactless force the door of its place of desolation, albeit they bring wine and oil.

Looked Like a Big Dose.

The man in bed had never been sick before. The doctor, wishing to ascertain his temperature, pointed the thermometer at him and commanded:

"Open your mouth, Jim."

"Wait a minute, doc," objected the patient. "I don't believe I can swallow that."—Judge.

Questions and Answers.

The time elapsing between a question and an answer is almost as important as the answer itself. It may be wisely long or short, but the longer it is the wiser must be the answer.

Fell Into Luck.
Artist—What a beautiful place this is! I suppose you came here for the view? Old Lady—No; I wasn't consulted. I was born here.

Let nothing shocking to eyes or ears approach those doors that close upon your child.—Juvenal.

Cheeky John Forster.

In "William Harrison Ainsworth and His Friends" the author, S. M. Ellis, tells a quaint story of Ainsworth and his friend John Forster. Ainsworth had discovered a fine set of Hogarth's engravings which was held at £5. a sum which, he said, "I could not just then spare or at least did not think I ought to spare. I took John Forster down to see the Hogarths, whereupon he actually said that he would and must have them himself and as he had not £5 of loose money at that moment I should lend that sum to him. I pointed out the absurdity of the position—that I wanted the engravings for myself and could not afford to lay out the money; how then, could I lend it to him? It was of no use. He overruled me, had the £5 of me and bought the Hogarths I was longing for."

The Moves In Chess.

In the number of possible moves chess stands alone among games, and not only is it perfectly safe to say that no living man has ever made even once every possible move, but it is highly improbable that in all the centuries of the history of the game has every possible move been made. The different ways of playing the first four moves on each side are so numerous that if every man, woman and child in a city of half a million population were to set to work playing them at the rate of four moves a minute night and day it would be more than a year before any one would be able to leave the chessboard.

A Freak Tortoise.

"Patrick, Patrick!" admonished a lady. "Be careful where you are walking! You nearly trod upon my darling tortoise!"

"Och, be awsy, me lady!" rejoined her Irish gardener. "Shure an' I wouldn't hurt hair of his head, the sweet cratur!"—London Telegraph.

His Choice.

Kidly Old Man—Well, my little man, what would you like to be when you grow up?

Little Man—I'd like to be a nice old gentleman like you, with nothin' to do but walk around and ask questions.

His Protest.

A bright little lad heard his parents talking about the salaries of teachers. "I don't see why they should pay the teachers," he said very seriously, "when we children do all the work."

Mixed.

Policeman (to clubman returning home late)—Here, you can't open the door with that. It's your cigar. Clubman—Great Scott, then I have smoked the latchkey!—Rire.

Some of the best and happiest hours possible to a man's life are held in trust for him, so to speak, by his fellow men.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleaned By a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25-cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.

George Pugh Killed by Employe.

A press dispatch from Taylorsville gives the following account of the killing of Mr. George Pugh, formerly of Scott county and well known here:

"In plain sight of thousands of people attending the Spencer County Fair John A. Cottrell, a farmer living on the Waterford Pike, four miles from Taylorsville, drew a pistol from his pocket and fired point-blank at George Pugh, 70 years old, for whom he had been engaged to drive horses at the fair. The bullet struck Pugh in the forehead over the left eye and lodged in the brain, causing instant death.

"Following the firing of the shot there was wild excitement on the fair grounds and Deputy Sheriff John W. Snider, scenting trouble, grabbed Cottrell and before the people realized his intention, was hastening toward Taylorsville, about a mile distant.

"Before the deputy sheriff and his prisoner had gotten well out of sight a mob of more than 250 determined men was formed and started for the jail with the avowed intention of 'seeing that justice moved promptly.'

"When Deputy Snider reached the jail he received a message telling of the pursuit by the mob and went immediately to the railroad station, catching the first train that came through. He landed in Shelbyville with his prisoner later in the afternoon. The mob, hearing of his prisoner, turned back to the fair grounds after having covered about half of the distance to the town.

"It is alleged by witnesses who stood near the men that they quarreled over wages demanded by Cottrell. He had been hired to drive horses in the show rings by Pugh, it is said, but did not do his duties to the satisfaction of his employer, and when he demanded money and was refused, it is said, the shooting followed.

"Pugh is survived by a wife and six children. Cottrell has a wife and three children."

Mr. Victor Howard, formerly of Bon, was married to Miss Lillian Pugh, a daughter of the deceased.

A Double Risk.
It was well known in Mayville that when Cyrus Fanning lent anything from a hammer to a plow, he expected a good return for the favor. It was a matter of astonishment to Wilson Green, however, when on inquiring of Mr. Fanning how much it would cost to rent his long ladder for an afternoon Cyrus replied promptly, "One dollar fifty."

"Now, look here, Cy," remonstrated his neighbor; "you know I've got to borrow it, for mine isn't long enough to reach where I'm obliged to climb to search out that chimney leak for the Widow Sears. Can't you make it less?"

"No, I can't," and Mr. Fanning shook his small head and closed his obstinate mouth.

"Why can't you?" demanded Wilson Green.

"Because there's a weak place in it two-thirds the way up!" snapped Mr. Fanning. "It'll bear my weight all right, but you're a good thuddy pounds heavier. If it gave way under you 'twould cost me a dollar to get it mended. Considering the risk, I call a dollar 'n' a half cheap."—Youth's Companion.

The Seal Ring.

The seal ring is known to be the oldest style of ring. It dates back to the days of the Old Testament, and products of the glyptic art, as gem engraving was called, were known in the most remote times. In Exodus xxviii, 17-20, mention is made of the following stones, upon which the names of the twelve children of Israel were engraved: The sardius, the topaz, the carbuncle, the emerald, the sapphire, the diamond, the figure, the agate, the amethyst, beryl, onyx and jasper. In verse 2 of the same chapter we find mention of the engraving of signs upon the hardest stones. It is believed that the Egyptians instructed the Israelites in the art of stone engraving. The Egyptians used the lapidary's wheel and emery powder and knew the use of the diamond in engraving other hard stones. Among the Assyrian and Babylonian ruins were found fine specimens of signs on gems, many of them set in rings.

Oddities of the Printing Shop.

Here is a row of capital letters and figures of ordinary size and shape just as you will find them in the daily newspaper:

SSSSXXXXXXZ33338888
They are such as are made up of two parts of similar form. Look carefully at these and you will perceive that the upper halves of the characters are a very little smaller than the lower halves, so little that, at a mere glance, you would declare them to be of equal size. Now turn this page upside down, and without any careful looking you will see that the difference in size is very much exaggerated—that the real top half of the letter is very much smaller than the other half. It will be seen by this that there is a tendency in the eye to enlarge the upper part of any object upon which it looks. Thus two circles of unequal size might be drawn and so placed that they would appear exactly alike.—New York World.

Wanted Them Green.

"Two starboard lights," said the diner to the waiter in a Broadway restaurant.

The waiter looked over the wine list, and his eye ran down to the liqueurs, for his two patrons had reached the post coffee stage of their dinner. He looked blankly at the list. He could see no such cordial.

"Starboard lights, sir?" he asked.

"Yes; starboard lights—two—and hurry!"

The waiter sought the maître d'hôtel and asked what the drink might be.

"Creme de menthe," said that imperious person. "It's what they call 'em in England."—New York Press.

A Big Drawback.

A man was praising the improvements by a friend in his dwelling.

"Your house looks a lot better now that it has been painted."

"Well," the man who had been redecorating admitted gloomily, "it does look a bit better, but we shall have to clean the windows more frequently to keep in harmony with it."

A Calamity.

"Neighbor—My! My! So the story is true and your husband has really eloped with the servant girl. Deserter! Wife weeping!—Yes, and she was the best girl I ever had, too, a perfectly lovely cook, and so quiet and respectful. Dear knows where I'll be able to get another!"—Philadelphia Times.

Money.

Money is character; money also is power. I have power not in proportion to the money I spend on myself, but in proportion to the money I can. If I please, give away to another.—Bulwer Lytton.

Bait.

"She—Why, Charlie, you seem to have become quite a man of fashion—such clothes, such jewelry! He—Yes; you see, my creditors are very anxious that I should get married.—Simplicissimus.

Their Use.

"Do you enjoy your meals, old man?" "Enjoy my meals?" snorted the indignant dyspeptic. "My meals are merely guileposts to take medicine before or after!"—Washington Herald.

The Way of the World.

"Isn't it awful? According to the papers there just seems to be one revolution after another."

"Yes. That's the way the world goes round."—Judge.

Tortured for Fifteen Years.

by a cure-defying trouble that baffled doctor, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. It's surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at Oberdorfer's.

Happiness in the Home.
I do not think there are any happy homes without the Lord is in the family, says a writer in an exchange.

Ambition.
Ambition can creep as well as soar. The pride of no person in a flourishing condition is more justly to be dreaded than that of him who is mean and cringing under a doubtful and unpromising fortune.—Burke: "Letters on a Regicide Peace."

Strength in Nature.
The loosest weed that drifts and waves under the heaving of the sea or hangs heavily on the brown and slippery shore, has a marked strength, structure, elasticity, gradation of substance; its extremities are more finely fibered than its center, its center than its roots; every fork of its ramification is measured and proportioned; every wave of its languid lines is love. It has its allotted size, and place, and function. It is a specific creature.—Ruskin: "The Seven Lamps of Architecture."

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY

It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town!

A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25-cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

MADDENED THE BEAR.

Ingenious Trap That Was Formerly
Used by the Mexicans.

The Mexicans in California had an ingenious method of trapping bears before the advent of the Yankees brought modern firearms into the region. A piece of meat was nailed to the stout horizontal limb of an oak tree. From limb five or six feet above a rope was suspended, to the end of which a large stone was made fast so that it hung about six inches above and a trifle nearer the trunk than the meat on the lower limb.

When a bear smelled the meat from afar he would climb up the tree and make his way to the bait. In doing so he would push the stone pendulum to one side. Just as he was about to fasten his teeth in the meat the stone would swing back and bang his head. This would arouse the anger of the bear, and he would give the stone a sweep of his paw which would send it swinging farther out. The consequence was a harder bang and more anger. The more he struck the stone the harder he would be hit in return, until from ferocious anger he would lose his caution and attack the pendulum with all his vigor. One powerful sweep, then bang, and brain would be tumbled out of the tree to the rocks below, where, disabled by his fall, he would be at the mercy of those who set the trap whenever they chose to take him.

THE HANDY MAN.

His Job of Varnishing the Door Was Not a Howling Success.

Mr. Brewster thought his front door looked as though a coat of varnish would do it no harm and resolved to do it himself to save the expense of a painter.

Findling an old "golden syrup" tin in the yard, he went off to the shop for some "best oak varnish." He placed it in the pantry for the night and was up early next morning and by half past 12 had got the door finished.

"I don't like it now it's done," he said to his wife.

"It's bad varnish," replied she. "He's sold you the wrong sort of stuff."

He thought so, too, and went back to the shop, taking what was left with him.

"This is funny varnish you sold me," said he. "It's dull, sticky stuff."

After examining it the shopman said: "This is not what I sold you. This is syrup!"

It then dawned on him that he had got hold of the wrong tin, and he went back home to explain to his wife, who at once said: "Good gracious James! And I've made the pudding with the other tins!" Then, after a moment's pause, "You'll dine today on roast mutton and varnish pudding!" Pearson's Weekly.

The Gallery Gods' Applause.

Lawrence Barrett once told of a conversation he had with Edwin Booth. The latter had been congratulated upon an ovation given him by a crowded house on the opening night of an engagement. "The sweetest music to my ears," said the great tragedian, "is the shouting of the boys in the gallery. I know they are not applauding because I have a reputation or because they wish to make a display. They simply give vent to their natural enthusiasm. When they shout I know that I am giving a good performance. As for the parquet, it may clap its hands out of politeness. A dramatic critic who had certain notions as to how a line should be read will applaud if I read it his way; otherwise he will remain quiet. I can never analyze the applause of the front rows, but the gallery is sincere in its likes or dislikes."

Shakespeare's Education.

Shakespeare could not have been an educated man, that is, in the academic sense of the word, for he was a mere youth when he came to London from Stratford and had had, up to that time, only such mental training as he could pick up in the schools of his native town. It nowhere appears that he attended school after leaving Stratford. And yet, as Matthew Arnold says, he lived during his London residence "in a current of ideas in the highest degree animating and nourishing to the creative faculty in a society permeated by fresh thought, intelligent and alive." And he used not only the ideas which he imbibed as they floated around him, but all the learning he could pick up without neglecting his calling.—New York American.

Drawing the Disease Out.

The Chinese have a curious custom of trying to cure a sick man. A friend of the patient obtains a straight branch with a few leaves and twigs at the end. On this he hangs a mirror of polished steel, and under that one of the sick man's coats. Then he goes for a short walk, a priest in the meantime performing a ceremony. The coat, being carried in this way, is supposed to draw the disease from the sufferer.

Just So.

"He doesn't really love you. He's after your money."

"But if his love were not genuine how could he put so much fervor into his wooing?"

"Oh, a man can dig up considerable fervor when he has to marry money or go to work!"—Exchange.

Inside Information.

"Dear sir," wrote the man who owed his tailor and had received a letter asking for payment of the bill, "your letter was extremely impudent, and I return it to you unopened."

LAXATIVE SENT FREE TO TRY

It may be taken for granted that there is no family that does not sometimes need a laxative. If you don't know of a good laxative, or the laxative you are using is losing its effect, we call to your attention to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pep'sin, which thousands of families are using successfully.

We have scores of letters from mothers, and scores from prominent men saying they are using it personally and giving it to their families, men like Mr. C. K. Smith of the Traffic Clearing House, Pine Bluff Ark., and Mr. George B. Turner, a lawyer of Harlan, Ky. The thousands of mothers who use it themselves and give it to their children will take too much space to mention.

The reason they prefer Syrup Pep'sin is that it is a mild, gentle laxative-tonic that does not grippe—effective and yet so mild that babies can take it. Its tonic ingredients invigorate the body and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they again do their work naturally. If you have been a victim of salts, pills and strong cathartics you will discard them when you once use Syrup Pep'sin.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any druggist, but before doing so you may want to try it free. If so, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly forward a free sample bottle. Then, being convinced, do as others are doing and buy it in the regular way of your favorite druggist.

Tenement House Damaged by Fire.

The fire department was called out Wednesday afternoon in response to an alarm from Box 31, near Eleventh street, where a frame cottage was burning fiercely.

The fire originated from a coal oil stove, which was left burning in the hall upstairs. It is supposed that the blaze was turned too high and ignited the paper on the walls of the narrow passage. The flames quickly spread, the entire roof was burned and nothing was saved from the second floor, the contents which were not destroyed by the fire being ruined by the water.

The fire department prevented the spreading of the fire to adjoining frame structures, as a stiff breeze was blowing. The roof of the house belonging to Mary A. Judy and the stable belonging to Mr. W. L. Yerkes, on the opposite of High street, caught but no damage was done. The house belonged to Mr. J. B. Northcott and was occupied by four colored families.

Mystery Surrounds Discharge of Conductors.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of yesterday contained the following: "Mystery surrounds the discharge of eight passenger conductors on the Knoxville-Cincinnati division of the Louisville and Nashville. Officials declare that no conductors have been dismissed from the service of the road, while the men and their friends declare that they have been let go. The men were let out on short notice, but why is a mystery."

"About a year ago the Louisville and Nashville put 'spotters' on trains, most of them being women. A number of charges were turned in by the 'spotters,' but no action was taken by the road. Beyond admitting that they have left the service of the L. and N., the men, who claim that they have been discharged, decline to discuss their dismissal. When confronted with these facts officials of the road strenuously denied that any conductor had left the service.

"Humors were afloat yesterday, both in Cincinnati and Covington that the Order of Railway Conductors will be called upon to take a hand in the matter, as the local committee have exhausted all means in their power to get the men reinstated."

RAILWAY DETECTIVES.

They Trace Those Who Steal or Destroy Property of the Road.

The secret service is a hard game to tackle, but, like all kinds of work, it has its easy jobs. One of them is that of special agent for a railroad. The agent is supposed to trace those who steal or destroy railroad property.

When he is notified that a trunk or other article of baggage is missing he finds out by its number from where it was sent and follows it on the books to the last station where it has been checked. Then he notifies the police in the vicinity between the station where the baggage was last checked and the station where it should have been checked. The police get busy, and probably the property is soon recovered and the thieves put in jail. The baggage is then turned over to the special agent, who notifies the railroad official that he has recovered the stolen goods.

If a freight car is robbed the special agent pursues the same tactics. He finds out where the car was last sealed and the place where the car was reported as having its seal broken. The police or constables in the country between the two points are notified, and if they fail to capture the robbers the railroad may never hear again of the stolen goods. Wherever destruction has occurred to railroad property it is usually police officers who trace and arrest those guilty.

However, the special agent must be a keen judge of human nature and with sufficient tact to make himself popular with the police officers in his territory. Usually he is an old time detective and is well enough acquainted with detectives and police throughout the country to obtain results where an amateur would fail.

THE JUDGE ERRED.

His Mistake Clearly Explained by the Old Colored Woman.

The judge of the juvenile court, leaning forward in his chair, looked searchingly from the discreet and very ragged piccaninny before his desk to the ample and solicitous form of the culprit's mother. "Why do you send him to the railroad yards to pick up coal?" demanded his honor. "You know it is against the law to send your child where he will be in jeopardy of his life."

"Deed, judge, I doesn't send 'im. I nebber has sent 'im, 'deed."

"Doesn't he bring home the coal?" interrupted the judge impatiently.

"But, judge, I whips 'im, judge, every time he brings it. I whips de little rascallion till he cayn't set, 'deed I does."

The careful disciplinarian turned her broad, shiny countenance reprovingly upon her undisturbed offspring, but kept a conciliatory eye for the judge.

"You burn the coal he brings, do you not?" persisted the judge.

"Burns it—burns it—cose I burns it." W'y, judge, I has to git it out ob de way."

"Why don't you send him back with it?" His honor smiled insinuatingly as he rasped out the question.

"Send 'im back, judge!" exclaimed the woman, throwing up her hands in a gesture of astonishment. "Send 'im back! W'y, judge, ain't yo' jest done been told me I didn't oughter send my chile to no sech dang'some and jeopardous place?"—Youth's Companion.

Bumps on the Head.

The lump raised by a blow on the head is due to the resistance offered by the hard skull and its close connection with the movable elastic scalp by many circumscribed bands of connective tissue. The result of a blow when the scalp is not cut is the bruising and laceration of many of the small blood vessels or capillaries. Blood or its fluid constituent, serum, is poured into the meshes of the surrounding connective tissue, which is delicate, spongy, distensible and cellular, and the well known bump or lump is quickly formed. This cannot push inward at all and naturally takes the line of least resistance. Similar bumps may be formed on the skin in exactly the same way, for the shin bone also is covered only by skin and subcutaneous connective tissue.

The First Iron Bridge.

The first iron bridge ever erected in the world and which is in constant use at the present time spans a little river in the county of Salop, on the railroad leading from Shrewsbury to Worcester, England. It was built in the year 1778 and is exactly ninety-six feet in length. The total amount of iron used in its construction was 378 tons. Stephenson, the great engineer, in writing concerning it said, "When we consider the fact that the casting of iron was at that time in its infancy, we are convinced that unblushing audacity alone could conceive and carry into execution such an undertaking."

Fertile Socotra.

Socotra, a large island in the Indian ocean, is one of the least known of the inhabited parts of the world. It is mountainous, but very fertile, and in ancient times was famed for frankincense and myrrh, aloes, dragon's blood and spices. But now Sumatra and South America produce more dragon's blood.

Death-Dealing Gun.

The United States Navy is planning a new 16-inch gun which will make the present world-beating 14-inch gun obsolete.

The navy has just finished one of the fourteen-inch guns, but it has been heard that some of the nations, Japan, especially, are also building the same calibre to keep pace with the situation in case the world is awakened from its dream of peace.

The plans for the new gun have been made by Admiral Twinning, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance. The length of the gun will be 67 feet. It will carry a shell weighing 2,000 pounds and will be effective at 15 miles, thus proving that the horizon cannot put a limit to modern naval science.

The fourteen-inch gun fires a shell weighing 1,400 pounds and has a range of 11 miles.

Two New Clubs in Blue Grass League.

A news dispatch from Lexington says: "President Thomas A. Sheets, of the Lexington club of the Blue Grass League, announced here this morning that the Blue Grass League will invade Covington and Newport next season, having clubs in each of those cities, thus giving the league eight clubs and putting it probably in Class C instead of Class D, where it now is.

"All clubs in the league will remain unless Winchester drops out, and if it does, Mt. Sterling wants a franchise.

"President Neal, of Louisville, talked the plans over with the present league officials here, and all agreed on the proposed scheme. This is the first time those cities have ever been invaded by the Bluegrass baseball organization."
